We've undoubtedly all seen a type of road sign, be it yellow or red with a big exclamation mark, that says: "Danger Ahead!" In this 17th installment of our study from the "The Lost Books of Adam and Eve", on the degrees and depths of deception Satan tried in order to tease, lure, deceive, beguile, seduce, distract, scare, manipulate, and even kill Adam and Eve, God says to Adam and Eve, "If only there had been this sighing and praying before, ere thou didst transgress! Then wouldst thou have rest from the trouble in which thou art now." These words make me think of "Danger Ahead!" signs, and reflect on the importance of praying against danger, a crisis or problem before it happens.—That by anticipating a situation, prayer has the power to block its arrival or influence its outcome. Yet there have been times in my life when prayer did not block the difficulty's arrival, but nevertheless prepared me to continue in prayer in order to face and get through it by leaning on "the everlasting arms" of the Lord (see Deut.33:27). Jesus, help me to keep my eyes on Your sign that says, "Pray Ahead!"—To keep praying ahead of my times, which are in Your hands (see Psalm 31:15).—That, as You promised in Romans 8:28, You will work out all things together for Your good because I love You and know that You called me according to Your purpose.

Chapters 59 - Satan enters the cave and smites Adam and Eve.

[In the previous chapter 58, Adam and Eve have spent their whole 53rd day, since being banished from the Garden of Eden, in prayer in their cave.]

1 But Satan, the hater of all good, did not allow them to end their prayers. For he called to his hosts, and they came, all of them. He then said to them, "Since Adam and Eve, whom we beguiled, have agreed together to pray to God night and day, and to entreat Him to deliver them, and since they will not come out of the cave until the end of the fortieth day.

2 And since they will continue their prayers, as they have both agreed to do [Satan sees that Adam and Eve are unified, that he can't get at one or the other separately, which is pissing him off!], that He will deliver them out of our hands, and restore them to their former state, see what we shall do unto them." And his hosts said unto him, "Power is thine, O our lord, to do what thou listest." [An interesting look at the loyalty of Satan's slimy subjects! Yes, Satan believes in and commands praise—praise to himself!]

3 Then Satan, great in wickedness took his hosts and came into the cave, in the thirtieth night of the forty days and one [the timeframe that Adam and Eve have been praying in their cave, as God commanded them]; and he smote Adam and Eve, until he left them dead. [When Satan wants to destroy, he must get permission. For example, he came to God and said, "Hey, check it out! Job only worships You because he's rich. If I take his camels, donkeys, servants, he'll curse You." (See Job 1:9-11). In this case, God gave Satan permission, but put a limit on it: "Don't you touch his body!" (See Job 1:12) So Satan got on with his dirty work! But in the face of this peril, Job fell on his face to God and worshipped Him, saying, "The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord." (Job 1:21). Satan jeered, telling God, "Maybe Job's love for You is only skin deep! Let me have his skin, and we'll find out!" God gave the okay, but warned, "Don't you dare kill him!" (See Job 2:1-7) The pinnacle of Job's story, in my opinion, is when he anthemically declares, "Though He slay me, yet will I trust in Him: but I will maintain mine own ways before Him." (Job 13:15) Whatta guy, who loved God through it all! And he came out a winner on all accounts!]

4 Then came the Word of God [Jesus Christ] unto Adam and Eve, who raised them from their suffering, and God said unto Adam, "Be strong, and be not afraid of him who has just come to thee." ["Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness." - Isa.41:10]

5 But Adam wept and said, "Where wast Thou, O my God, that they should smite me with such blows, and that this suffering should come upon us; upon me and upon Eve, Thy handmaid?" ["When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee." - Isa.43:2]

6 Then God said unto him, "O Adam, see, he is lord and master of all thou hast, he who said he would give thee divinity. Where is this love for thee? And where is the gift he promised?"

7 For once has it pleased him, O Adam, to come to thee, to comfort thee, and to strengthen thee, and to rejoice with thee, and to send his hosts to guard thee; because thou hast hearkened to him, and hast yielded to his counsel; and hast transgressed My commandment but has followed his behest?"

8 Then Adam wept before the Lord, and said, "O Lord, because I transgressed a little, Thou hast sorely plagued me in return for it. I ask Thee to deliver me out of his hands, or else have pity on me, and take my soul out of my body now in this strange land."

9 Then God said unto Adam, "If only there had been this sighing and praying before, ere thou didst transgress! Then wouldst thou have rest from the trouble in which thou art now."

10 But God had patience with Adam, and let him and Eve remain in the cave until they had fulfilled the forty days.

11 But as to Adam and Eve, their strength and flesh withered from fasting and praying, from hunger and thirst; for they had not tasted either food or drink since they left the garden; nor were the functions of their bodies yet settled; and they had no strength left to continue in prayer from hunger, until the end of the next day to the fortieth. They were fallen down in the cave; yet what speech escaped from their mouths, was only in praises. ["Though He slay me, yet will I trust in Him: but I will maintain mine own ways before Him." (Job 13:15)]

Stay tuned for next week's installment which exposes Satan, when he turns up in a jaw-dropping get-up!

As a PS to one of last week's posts (in KU1967), "From Gaul to Glastonbury: The Biblical Mystery of Joseph of Arimathea and Jesus", here is a KURC:

"I just listened to it. My initial reaction is a cautionary 'very possible'. I have heard several of these ideas before. Also, depending on what you read, you will get different reactions on John Dee. Some say he was an occultist. I think it could be worth posting, with a caution. Please also include Zephaniah 3:9, 'For then will I turn to the people a pure language, that they may all call upon the name of the Lord, to serve Him with one consent.'"

>  Regarding the above vids about bots: It's a bit like industrial trading on the stock exchange, where bots and algorithms buy short and go long in split-second trades across every publicly traded company and industry. No human can keep up with the lightning-speed takeover of AI with share trading. And as for social media, I've seen some people say on social media, for example, in response to some posters, "Why do you keep posting this image? Because I saw it in another group!" Bots are used to garner likes, clicks and engagement, which makes some sites money, and sometimes lots of money! Because advertisers consider bot traffic as social media influencers, when in reality they could very well be bots, not be an actual real page, group or person! Not human botany, but AI bots in which humanity is getting more and more caught up with it!—Even amongst some Christians, who are declaring how wowed they are to be using it for the glory of God! No doubt you've read about, for example, some pastors using AI to put together their sermons; Catholic confessionals into which parishioners can enter and converse with an AI priest; feeding info into AI to create worship songs. Luke 22:15 says, "For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay nor resist." Who is that "you"? I always took it to be me, you, us, humankind, God's creation! But now I'm wondering if the lines of that (and other Scripture) are becoming blurred.—With some Christians desiring and trusting in the "mouth and wisdom" of AI!? Anyway, back to social media: Bots are really making big inroads on Facebook and Instagram. In the first of the above-three vids it says 1 in 3 posts or comments online are likely to be generated by a bot—sometimes noticeable and easy to detect, but sometimes not. These are confusing times, with people getting drawn into sinking to the BOTtom very easily! If you think spam is/was a problem, the invasion of AI and bots in social media is a tidal wave, in comparison—a diabolical deluge, the flood of lies! And by the way, I pray that my comments are BAPtised in the Spirit!—Not BOTised! I have not undergone a loBOTomy! I've still got my own mind, gifts and talents in Christ! (Listen to the song "Break Away" [see song #1 here: <https://www.nubeat.org/abbat.html>], written by Peter G, in which it says, "Computerization takin' over everything; Soon there'll be no need for human beings' thinking." Whew! Written in the very early 2000s. It's happening!) "Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus." (Phil.2:5) Whoa, y'all! The deception is thick as thieves! Don't give up your mind! Because Satan's slickest tools are yet to be revealed! God help us not to be fooled!—Especially by, as Jesus repeatedly warned us, those who come in His Name! The Antichrist is not one primarily against Christ, but one who attempts to be "instead of" Christ—yet appears as Christ! See the following article:

"Does 'Anti' in the New Testament mean 'Against'? What is the basic meaning of this term?" - Find out how it could very well instead mean "instead of"!

<https://share.google/yHEjxNCxQU8Nf0fX3>

So, I believe all of this begs the warning: Don't appear to be a Christian without Christ and Christ alone! "I am at rest in God alone; my salvation comes from Him. He alone is my rock and my salvation, my stronghold; I will never be shaken. Rest in God alone, my soul, for my hope comes from Him. He alone is my rock and my salvation, my stronghold; I will not be shaken." (Psa.62:1-2,5-6 — HCS Bible) In further praying about the use of AI, especially regarding Christian-created musical projects, from the ones I've heard, I denote a lack of divine breath, brokenness and the power of the Spirit coming through the lungs and larynx of a living soul! But, of course, that's understandable: it's AI — Artificial Imitation.

1Corinthians 13:2-3 comes to mind—with some paraphrasical additions: "Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels [and AI], and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal. And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge [of how AI operates and can generate what I need to further my goals]; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains [so that what I want to contrive can happen and be validated], and have not charity, I am nothing." In Acts chapter 8, Simon was someone who so desired God's anointing, and he tried to attain it in his own way. Can the whole idea of a contrived anointing lead to one being swept up into dangerous, deceptive territory, by seeking the "mouth and wisdom" of AI to grant that anointing? Could it be that once a mode or method is so advanced that it becomes hailed and acknowledged as a work of God, that it has the potential of turning into a practice that is intrinsically not fully rooted in God? AI-generated music is really not my bag, and, in all honesty, I'm not really totally feeling it. Give me a flesh-and-blood broken-hearted musician, a human "more precious than fine gold" (see Isa.13:12), with a second-rate guitar and the love of Jesus on their lips any day over someone's fantasy fulfillment for which they crave validation so as to support whatever they want to purport and proliferate.

(Excerpts:) "AI giants ["I give command, and I bring them: giants are coming to fulfil My wrath, rejoicing at the same time and insulting. (Isa. 13:3)], including OpenAI, are accused of hiding their environmental footprint. The growth of artificial intelligence is leading to increased energy consumption; data centres' power consumption is expected to double by 2030. And by 2027, AI could consume up to 6.6 billion cubic meters of water per year, twice the annual consumption of Switzerland. It has been estimated that generative AI could produce 2.5 million tonnes of electronic waste by 2030...The recent boom in artificial intelligence (AI) has significant environmental costs that are largely hidden...warns that the ecological and ethical abuses of AI technology are evolving faster than our ability to grasp its consequences, and with increasing opacity, highlighting the disconnect between the interfaces we use and the hardware reality of the servers that run them. The increasing use of AI in various applications, such as voice assistants, smart fridges and personalised advertising, is fuelling a rebound effect known as the Jevons paradox, where even though AI is becoming more efficient, its energy consumption is increasing because it's now used everywhere...The ecological footprint of AI extends beyond energy consumption. The growth of generative AI models also requires large quantities of critical metals and water, leading to the emergence of new mines and the generation of significant amounts of electronic waste, as so few electronic components are recycled...The lack of transparency from AI giants, such as their refusal to disclose energy consumption data, makes it difficult to estimate the actual environmental impact of AI...ChatGPT could reduce brain activity in areas linked to attention, planning, memory and critical thinking. She also warned that AI produces false information, known as 'hallucinations'":

(Excerpts:) "There is something profoundly grotesque about a government that funds 'freedom campaigns' through secret payments to social media stars, complete with non-disclosure agreements forbidding them to reveal who's really pulling the strings. A recent investigation by Declassified UK revealed (see - <https://www.declassifieduk.org/uk-government-secretly-paid-foreign-youtube-star>

And so long as Britain continues to cloak its strategic propaganda efforts in the soft language of freedom and resilience, citizens everywhere will remain less informed, less empowered, and more easily manipulated.":

They possibly started coming around or giving an impression of movement that you and I would class as not dead yet. They followed protocol and phoned in to say, 'This doesn't look good', and George at base said, 'Go ahead'. And sometimes the team say, 'I'm not going to do it. This person is alive. You should be maintaining their breathing and maintain their breathing and monitor the heart rate, giving them the maximum chance to get to hospital.' You don't start opening up their abdomen and removing organs. This is why, when it really hit me, that you can only remove best quality organs if taken out of the living person, obviously completely sedated with pain relief to the nines, but be under no misunderstanding. The act of harvesting organs, which is what they call it, harvesting organs result, removes the person from the living to the dead. I don't need a Bible to know this is murder. • "A Push for More Organ Transplants Is Putting Donors at Risk - People across the United States have endured rushed or premature attempts to remove their organs. Some were gasping, crying or showing other signs of life." - Bloody awful!

(Excerpts:) "...in recent years, as the system has pushed to increase transplants, a growing number of patients have endured premature or bungled attempts to retrieve their organs...revealed a pattern of rushed decision-making that has prioritized the need for more organs over the safety of potential donors...Workers in several states said they had seen coordinators persuading hospital clinicians to administer morphine, propofol and other drugs to hasten the death of potential donors...Most donated organs in the United States come from people who are brain-dead — an irreversible state — and are kept on machines only to maintain their organs...Circulatory death donation is different. These patients are on life support, often in a coma. Their prognoses are more of a medical judgment call...the government has largely allowed the transplant system to police itself...Circulatory death donation used to be largely forbidden. That began to change in the 1990s, when a dying patient asked the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center to remove her life support and donate her organs. The hospital honored her wishes, then spent two years creating guidelines for future cases. Use of the practice gradually spread. Procurement organizations attributed the procedure's recent growth to technological advances. Dozens of employees at the organizations said it was largely because of government pressure. Citing the number of Americans waiting for organs, H.H.S. said in 2020 that it would begin grading procurement organizations on how many transplants they arranged. The department has threatened to end its contracts with groups performing below average, starting next year. [Meaning, cut out and give us those organs, or else!] Many have raised their numbers by pursuing more circulatory death donors." [And this last excerpt recounts what happened to someone who was in a Presbyterian hospital! Supposedly the staff are Christians!?!—But obviously not! Some were Pagan blood-brothelites! By a miracle, this woman escaped being surgically executed!] "In 2022, when she was 38 and homeless, Ms. Gallegos was hospitalized and went into a coma. Doctors at Presbyterian Hospital in Albuquerque told her family she would never recover. Her relatives agreed to donation, but as preparations began, they saw tears in her eyes. Their concerns were dismissed, according to interviews with the family and eight hospital workers. Donation coordinators said the tears were a reflex. (Tears can be an involuntary response to irritants.) On the day of the planned donation, Ms. Gallegos was taken to a pre-surgery room, where her two sisters held her hands. A doctor arrived to withdraw life support. Then a sister announced she had seen Ms. Gallegos move. The doctor asked her to blink her eyes, and she complied. The room erupted in gasps. Still, hospital workers said, the procurement organization wanted to move forward. A coordinator said it was just reflexes and suggested morphine to reduce movements. The hospital refused. Instead, workers brought her back to her room, and she made a full recovery.":

(Excerpts:) "While doctor-assisted suicide in the U.S. has not yet reached the alarming extremes observed in Canada, the 'death with dignity' movement is actively attempting to change that. Pending Governor Hochul's signature on New York's recently passed bill, 11 states and Washington, D.C., will permit this abhorrent and immoral practice. Fortunately, dedicated coalitions – including the disability rights community, pro-life organizations, leaders within the Catholic Church, and other advocates – have helped slow its expansion. Since Oregon first legalized assisted suicide in 1997, nearly 10,000 deaths have occurred under such laws. Nevertheless, with a culture increasingly embracing death as a solution, it's difficult to predict whether the U.S. will ultimately follow Canada's troubling example by normalizing assisted death instead of prioritizing compassionate care...Perhaps most concerning, basic care – nutrition and hydration provided via feeding tubes – has been reclassified as 'medical treatment'. Since the 1980s, this shift has allowed doctors to remove feeding tubes even from patients who are neither terminal nor actively dying and who can otherwise process food and hydration. This single policy change has endangered countless medically vulnerable people.":

(Excerpts:) "A group of leading American scientists has uncovered evidence linking Covid mRNA 'vaccines' to surging reports of thyroid eye disease (TED), an alarming disorder that leads to blindness. TED, also known as Graves' ophthalmopathy, causes the eyes to bulge in their sockets due to a severe swelling of the muscles. The eyes become bloodshot and crossed, causing double vision and total loss in severe cases.

It causes inflammation and swelling of the eye muscles, eyelids, tear glands, and fatty tissues behind the eyes. Patients first become aware of the condition when they begin to suffer from the initial symptoms, such as bulging, dry, or watery eyes. In recent years, cases of TED have inexplicably spiked, raising concern among the medical community. However, a new study has just linked the surging reports to the mass Covid 'vaccination' campaign.":

Trump Signs Bill That Establishes Stablecoins As Digital, Programmable Money" - About this article, Peter G. commented: "Even the term "CBDC" represents what it is: Central Bank Digital Currency. Listen to the name. What does it tell us? The banks want in. Because billions of dollars are being traded and swapped within blockchains that are decentralized and ungoverned by banks and governments. This is making the elites nervous, with control slipping out of their fingers. Stablecoin has the same value, for example, as the USDT (otherwise known as tether) which is equal to the value of the US dollar. However, it is digitally used across blockchain platforms and is somewhat controlled by the valuation and volatility of that value. Crypto currencies within decentralized blockchains are completely outside of these regulatory and controlling bodies—banks and governments included. But now that they are creating their own crypto currencies, this is an attempt to try and control the uncontrollable blockchain marketplace.":

"An Offensive Shield -- for Impunity, and Genocide: The Iron Dome and U.S. Complicity in Slaughter of Gazans"

(Excerpts:) "The Iron Dome, then, is not just a 'defense' system. It is the preeminent strategic enabler of Israel’s asymmetric genocidal war against Palestinians. First the shield, then the sword. It must be said clearly: Opposing genocide and illegal occupation is not antisemitic. It is the defense of humanity. The Israeli government's ongoing colonization of Palestinian land, its collective punishment of a captive population, and its refusal to recognize a sovereign Palestinian people all constitute violations of international law. To oppose this violence is not to oppose Jewish people. It is to stand against the machinery of oppression, just as we should for any people subjected to such inhumanity. By eliminating the possibility of reprisal, the Iron Dome has insulated Israel from accountability, enabling it to continue inhumane policies of dispossession and aggression without consequence. This strategic impunity dulls domestic dissent and emboldens a government that continues to seize land and to erase Palestinian life...That the whole of the United States is not consumed with outrage at the mass murder, the diabolical, Torquemadan cruelties of the IDF, the self-appointed agents of death who gleefully kill children, laugh while shooting starving people desperately scrapping for a morsel of food to survive, and bomb hospitals, mosques, churches, markets, cafes, even tents, is a wrenching testimony to the psychic numbing that occurs with distance from the grim reality of war and the power of the dehumanizing narrative to which many Americans have succumbed...Licensing relentless, deadly violence against Palestinians will not end well for the U.S. government or the American people. Without the United States’ money and munitions, Israel would not be able to level Gaza and pulverize its people. The U.S. has entwined itself with Netanyahu and fine-tuned

> 🤔 "In a shocking about face, the United Nations comes out against transgenderism; the question is why, and why now?"

(Excerpts:) "It was an issue that could easily get the patriotic Christian right all riled up, disoriented and distracted, sapping much of the energy it would have required to stop the march toward a digital slave state. Now we find out that transgenderism was never that important to the globalists. It was just a throw-away issue...it signals to me that they are now confident that they no longer need this throw-away distractive issue to serve as cover while they sneak into society their more important totalitarian mechanisms. They're confident they have enough support now to put the big game-changing policies in place that will take the world in a direction they have long sought to take it — total information awareness in a technocratic AI surveillance state where all human movement, all human consumption and all financial transactions will be tracked in real time, the makings for a true social-credit scoring system. People, we are closer than ever to the globalist New World Order that we all knew was lurking behind the facade of our so-called 'free society'. This is a world order where they, the AI-enabled technocrats who control the algorithms, decide what we eat, where we travel, who we meet, and what we are ALLOWED to spend our money on. Rights are being gradually replaced with privileges. Only the privileged with high social credit scores will be allowed to do certain things. Those who are disobedient will just have their money turned off, or restricted to a certain area for purchase of certain essentials...I'm not saying this issue is going to disappear completely. We're not there yet. But it's the beginning of the end for transgenders being treated as one of the most-favored groups in society. Don't mistake this shifting position as the U.N. somehow coming out of the darkness and into the light. They're not. They never will be on our side. The real battle is just beginning."

>  "Formerly gay man is facing possible jail time and fines for simply sharing his journey to God, and the Bible" - Let's keep this dear brother in our prayers!

(Excerpts:) "The accusations against Grech arose when three individuals reported him to the police, claiming he was promoting conversion practices. This prompted a legal battle that could see him face up to five months in prison or a fine of up to 5,000 Euros. 'It's been a very long journey', Grech noted, as he prepared for what he described as the 'final oral submissions between the lawyers before the final verdict' in his most recent court appearance on July 9, 2025. Despite the challenges, Grech remains optimistic, stating, 'I really do believe that God is going to come through and usher us into victory here.' Grech's journey to faith began with a transformative experience at a church, where he felt 'the presence of God' and the love of genuine believers, profoundly impacting his life. He described a pivotal moment when he read Bible verses addressing homosexuality, leading to a realization: 'I needed to repent and give my life to Jesus, and I did that, and it's been the most surprising, blessed of a decision I've ever made in my life; I'm so thankful.' This personal conviction has fueled his resolve to continue sharing his story, despite the legal repercussions...As Grech awaits the final verdict, his situation serves as a focal point for discussions on religious liberty and free speech, not only in Malta but globally, as similar legal frameworks exist in other countries. His resilience in the face of potential punishment reflects a commitment to his faith and a belief in the power of his testimony to inspire others.":

- What I posted yesterday regarding AI, and the item above, has caused me to reflect on 1Corinthians chapter 12, where it talks about the diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit, which are given to the Body of Christ. So I had a re-read of that chapter. It's so beautiful: How the Body, fitly joined together, working in love, is Christ's Kingdom-created, inspirational instrument on Earth to accomplish His purpose. But where is the line to be drawn between working together with Christian brethren, tapping into and benefitting of their God-given gifts and talents, working together in prayer, with no schism or jealousies, but in gratitude for each others' Holy Spirit anointings, and someone, for example, bypassing that process and cleaving to and working with AI exclusively? Perhaps to some that may sound like an extreme comparison, but could this be an important conversation in itself?: That, in short, by (in such cases that fall under this conjecture) mainly teaming up with AI for your Christian endeavours, where does that leave 1Corinthians chapter 12? Redacted?—And, if so, to what degree? It takes humility, at times, to go to others and ask for their help and guidance, input, counsel, etc., but in going to AI, does the choice and obedience to "let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves" (Phil.2:3) have the potential to be cancelled, bypassed, tossed aside? Back in a previous KU, I shared my concerns about AI's inroads covertly penetrating one's fAIth and prAIse! Faith and Praise are such vital pillars in our Christian life! "But without faith (which comes from the Word, as it says in Romans 10:17) it is impossible to please Him: for he that cometh to God must believe that He is, and that He is a rewarder of them that diligently seek Him." (Heb.11:6) And "Let every thing that hath breath (Not a breathless-edifice AI!) praise the Lord. Praise ye the Lord." (Psa.150:6) Is the Enemy oh so so so very slyly seeping into unwitting, misWorded Christians through erroneous-evangelical enthusiasms, and with tantalising techy subtleties be rewiring their affections so* that their fAlth and prAlse may harbour off-kilter proclivities? ("Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth." [Col.3:2])

- In 2Cor.3:18 it says, "But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit." In the original Greek, the word "beholding" in this verse means "to look at as in a mirror" or "to contemplate", ie not simply seeing, but a focused contemplation or reflection, often with the idea of being transformed by what is seen. So, what happens if someone chooses, in that sense, to "behold" AI and humanoid robots? (Excerpts:) "A famine does not simply occur by chance. Israeli authorities have deliberately manufactured famine in Gaza by implementing attacks and policies that prevent basic essentials from reaching Palestinians in need. While Israel's supporters have denied this, Israeli officials made their intentions clear in the early days of the genocide...Who can forget what then-Israeli Defence Minister Yoav Gallant [And where is he now? Oh yeah, he resigned and absconded to somewhere!] declared on 9 October 2023? Among the earliest and most striking examples of genocidal intent to starve Palestinians in Gaza, he said: 'We are imposing a complete siege on the Gaza Strip. There will be no electricity, no food, no water, no fuel, everything will be closed. We are fighting against human animals and we are acting accordingly.' The siege that followed never ended. Palestinian children are dying, one after another, from prolonged malnutrition and dehydration, which shuts down their bodies slowly and painfully...Right now, every child in Gaza is facing starvation. Israeli authorities are not the only ones responsible for this suffering. • "Unacknowledged False Flags: The October 7th Hamas Attack – Part 1" - Recommend reading in full!

(Intro:) "The Unacknowledged False Flag Substack series explores the evidence that indicates reported terrorist attacks were actually false flags orchestrated by elements within governments or those aligned to state interests. Unlike 9/11 or 7/7, these likely false flags are often overlooked. We'll look at the evidence that suggests they were either allowed to happen (Let It Happen On Purpose – LIHOP), were directly facilitated (Make It Happen On Purpose – MIHOP) or were faked (hoaxes)...[Closing paragraph:] All the evidence clearly suggests that the October 7th Hamas Attack was a LIHOP false flag operation.

It is impossible to conceive how it could have unfolded as it did without the connivance of elements within the Israeli government—or powerful forces aligned with Israeli state objectives—who deliberately allowed the Hamas Attack to proceed. (Excerpts:) "If these plans seem a bit sketchy, then that's because they are. I am not an expert on military matters, but the last three years of observing continuous military action on the Ukrainian front has perhaps taught me more than the European officials in charge of military policy seem able to grasp... Will it ever come to a real, hot war? This is by no means certain. But the logic of events and the level of nervous hysteria in Western capitals indicate that they want to glue their broken world order back together by borrowing close to a trillion euros and throwing it at the defense contractors. The logic of this action will then require tens of thousands of their citizens to be sent to places where they will be maimed or killed — all for the sake of staying in power and personal self-enrichment. This problem begs for a political solution. The question is, is such a solution even possible given the degenerate state of European politics?...The best scenario imaginable is that their attempt to borrow a trillion euros will fail...or that their rearmament program will fail...or that their attempts to hold on to power will fail...where the Europeans have to actually do something to save themselves — is admittedly the hardest to imagine. What is easiest to imagine is that Russia will once again rise to the occasion and neutralize the military threat coming from Europe, as it had done with the Teutonic Knights, the Swedes, the Poles, the French and the Germans...and this time around the Russians may decide to make sure that Europe never poses a threat to Russia again."—*In the coming NWO? (Excerpts:) "Donald Trump's presidency has been marked by a dramatic intensification of U.S. support for Israel that would make previous presidential administrations blush. This shift is so marked and forceful that it can be understood through the lens of Judeo-Accelerationism. Originating from accelerationist theory, which holds that intensifying a prevailing system's logic can bring about transformative change, Judeo-Accelerationism describes the abandonment of incremental support for Israel in favor of rapid, sweeping policies that reshape the geopolitical landscape to Israel's benefit...What makes Trump's presidency uniquely dangerous is not simply the extremity of individual policies, but their cumulative effect in normalizing Jewish supremacist objectives under U.S. protection. By shattering norms around Jerusalem, settlements, and Palestinian displacement, Trump has created new facts on the ground that future administrations may find politically impossible to reverse. Unlike his predecessors, who operated within international frameworks, respected multilateral diplomacy, and maintained at least nominal distance from Israel's most extreme demands, Trump has turned the United States into an uncritical enabler of Israeli expansionism...Despite running as an America First candidate, Trump has spent much of his political capital bolstering Israeli military and geopolitical power. In the process, he has revealed the hollow nature of his anti-war image and nationalist rhetoric. His administration, staffed with ideologues committed to Israeli supremacy, has reoriented U.S. foreign policy around the goal of cementing Israel's regional hegemony, no matter the cost in lives, stability, or American credibility. By aligning U.S. power with Israel's expansionist agenda, Trump has steered American foreign policy into dangerous and potentially irreversible territory.":

(Excerpts:) "In a pitch deck circulated to investors in recent months, Palantir chief technology officer Shyam Sankar, early Palantir employee Ryan Podolsky, and investor Christian Garrett are raising money for Founders Films, a new production company based in Dallas that aims to push for films with a nationalistic bent and unsubtle political overtones. The company said its projects would adhere to a set of rules: 'Say yes to projects about American exceptionalism, name America's enemies, back artists unconditionally, take risk on novel IP'...The slate includes a feature film about the evacuation of the World Trade Center on 9/11 ('courage is contagious,' the tagline reads). The company also hopes to create a three-part adaptation of, and a film about killing Qasem Soleimani. The company brands itself as explicitly pro-American, but many of the projects also celebrate Israel. Founders' proposed film slate also includes a movie about the recent attack against Iran, which depicts Israel as 'striving for nuclear non-proliferation and exercising its right of self-defense against a crazed regime intent on destroying it.' The proposed projects also include a film about Israel's 2024 booby-trapped pager operation against Hezbollah. [Which was so gruesome! Harming thousands of innocents, and women and children!] Actually, of course, the projects that appear to be in the pipeline are perhaps what might be expected if one is out to celebrate American and Israeli heroism with what one might presume to be the nasty bits, like shooting and starving children, left out...The stampeding of desperate civilians from one corner to another of a sealed-off territory; the persistent, lethal bombing of homes, hospitals and refugee centers; and the denial of food and medicine to a starving population are not incidental acts...Whitewashing the genocidal nature of Israel's war is a serious moral failure...[some argue] that if Israel intended genocide, its military could have caused far more deaths. But genocide is about intent to destroy, in whole or in part, a group. Dismissing genocide because a powerful state didn't maximize killing reduces it to a numbers game and ignores reality."

The whole idea of blockchain ecosystems is to provide secure, private, individually controlled transactions from one person to another within deregulated platforms. CBDCs are nothing more than digital coins with connections to this assigned and authorized bank. This is in contradiction to the crypto industry'd vision for autonomy and individual control of a personalized wallet and without any bank or authority monitoring, controlling and restricting what you do. (Excerpt:) "There are no winners in nuclear war. Only survivors – if that. Betting that the other side will blink is a dangerous gamble with civilization at stake. Both Russia and NATO understand the catastrophic costs of war. Any large-scale conflict would require massive social and economic shifts and would devastate Europe on a scale not seen since World War II. But history shows that fear alone doesn't always prevent disaster. We cannot rule out a return to extremes.

Nuclear weapons still function as a deterrent. But the taboo against their use – and their ability to guarantee peace – is being tested once again. The more leaders gamble with assumptions, the closer we come to finding out whether the old rules still hold." - *Dear Lord, keep us all thoroughly Psalm91ed through these ever-darkening days! (Excerpts:) "Israel is intentionally starving civilians in order to bring about the ethnic cleansing of Gaza and steal a Palestinian territory. That's all this is, and anyone who says otherwise is lying...Israeli officials aren't even hiding it anymore...Israel has been on record scheming to find a way to relocate the population of Gaza for many decades. That's what this is all about. That's all this has ever been about. It's not about hostages. It's not about Hamas. It's not about Israel defending itself. It's about stealing a Palestinian territory, and anyone who says otherwise is lying...Israel and its apologists have been frantically pushing the narrative that Gaza is starving because the UN isn't allowing aid in (swiftly refuted by Drop Site News), that Gaza is starving because Hamas is stealing the aid (swiftly refuted by Reuters), and that Gaza is starving because Hamas attacks people who try to go to aid sites (already refuted by Israeli soldiers telling the Israeli press that they're the ones shooting the aid seekers). The more evil Israel gets, the more frenetic its apologists need to get with their lies to justify its behavior. Starvation deaths in Gaza are skyrocketing. Many of those still alive have already suffered permanent damage, and even with a massive influx of aid and complete reversal of Israeli policies it will be very difficult to undo the effects of the famine. Western governments are beginning to speak out against the mass atrocity in Gaza, far too little and far too late. We can expect Israel and the United States to respond to this outcry by saying that Palestinians need to be evacuated out of Gaza as quickly as possible in order to rescue them from this deliberately manufactured humanitarian crisis. [WHICH THEY CREATED!] We can expect them to denounce anyone who opposes this ethnic cleansing operation as evil monsters who want to starve the poor Palestinians. [WHEN THEY ARE THE EVIL MONSTERS!—That's behaviour right out of the Devil's playbook!] And it will all be lies. They lied this entire time. It's about the most evil thing you could possibly come up with, really. If this is not evil, then nothing is.":

Ephesians 6-waging war in the Spirit against Him on all fronts! You can decide by the title if you want to check it out. Note: Current statics say that 139 children worldwide are offered to Molech (via abortion) every minute!—And who knows how many via other devious methods!? "You shall not give any of your children to offer them to Molech, and so profane the name of your God: I am the Lord." (Leviticus 18:21)

"Understanding Molech: The Demon-god of Infant Sacrifice - Molech is not a metaphor. He's a very real, and very powerful devil." - Read in full to be fully informed and fully armed!

(Excerpts:) "Before Molech was a meme, before he was a metaphor in conspiracy forums, before his name was whispered in Planned Parenthood exposés or screamed through megaphones outside marble courthouses, he was a god. Not a metaphor. Not a myth. A real spirit. A territorial, bloodthirsty entity. And contrary to what liberal theologians or secular historians might say, he is not dead. He has simply changed costumes. To understand Molech, you cannot merely understand history. You must understand hostility. Ancient peoples feared their gods, not because they were pious, but because they were prey. Molech was the apex predator of the ancient pantheon—not interested in crops or clouds or love poems, but in blood, heat, and the cries of burning children...Not metaphorical. Not symbolic. Actual children. Burned. Offered. Cooked alive in fire...The location most closely associated with Molech worship is the Valley of Hinnom, or Gehenna, located just outside Jerusalem. Archaeological and textual evidence points to this valley as a site of ritual infant sacrifice. Later, Jesus would use the word 'Gehenna' as a metaphor for Hell. That was no accident...The Phoenicians, the Ammonites, and the Canaanites are all implicated in worship of this entity [The article mentions other cultures as well.]...Molech wasn't just a regional deity. He wasn't a tribal totem. He was a principality. The kind of spiritual entity Paul talks about in Ephesians 6:12...Molech was a blood god then. He is a blood god now. Just because the statue's gone doesn't mean the altar's cold. The sacrifices never stopped...Some Christians believe we only know the names of a couple demons—Lucifer and Abaddon. But Scripture gives us many more. Ba'al. Asherah. Dagon. Chemosh. And of course, Molech...Their worship always involved domination, mutilation, fire, perversion, or death. And these gods, these demons, never stopped hungering. They just adapted their masks...Modern Molech doesn't need a bronze furnace. He has Planned Parenthood. He doesn't need priests with drums. He has judges in robes. He doesn't need a sacred grove. He has office parks with slogans like 'reproductive justice' and 'bodily autonomy'. But the core ritual remains: a child is offered up so that an adult [Or a nation!—Think Isahell et al!] may prosper ["prosper" in a worldly sense, ie, "the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life" (see 1Jn.2:16)]...Molech feeds on fear. Fear of poverty. Fear of shame. Fear of inconvenience. Fear of accountability. The ancient world called it survival. We call it choice...We are not called to cope with demons. We are called to confront them. Jesus didn't negotiate with unclean spirits—He cast them out. The apostles didn't tiptoe around demonic strongholds—they tore them down. [Not to negotiate with evil, but to nullify and negate it! Not to compromise with Satan, but to curse him, in Jesus' Name! Not to find common ground with devils, but to cast them down, in the name of Jesus Christ!] The early church didn't view spiritual warfare as the fringe of the Christian experience—it was central. And if we are to walk in the same Spirit, we must recover the same boldness. Demons are territorial. They crave thrones—whether political, cultural, sexual, or ideological. They work through systems, policies, trends, and false doctrines. [And through the minds of humanity! "And since they did not see fit to acknowledge God or consider Him worth knowing [as their Creator], God gave them over to a depraved mind, to do things which are improper and repulsive." (Rom.1:28 AMP)] They influence media, medicine, entertainment, and education. And they do it quietly, surgically, smilingly. This is not speculation. It's the worldview of the Bible.":

Unlike most researchers who have studied the postcards (which you will see in the video) through an artistic lense, delving into their symbolism in the framework of "alternative" history and societal resets offers a shocking and revelatory perspective—one that points to large-scale services of selling babies as products in the late-19th and early-20th centuries! "But when Jesus saw it, He was much displeased, and said unto them, 'Suffer the little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God. It were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he cast into the sea, than that he should offend one of these little ones.'" (Mk. 10:14; Lk. 17:2)

(Excerpts:) "...formal plan for the future of Gaza—as seen by the religious right—was presented to a diverse group of Israeli legislators, rabbis, grieving family members of IDF soldiers lost in combat or in Hamas captivity, and security officials from Gaza. The plan—in English its title is 'The Riviera in Gaza—From Vision to Reality'—is a blueprint for a future in Gaza without the Palestinians who now are living and dying there. The meeting was held in the unpretentious second floor Negev Hall in the Knesset in Jerusalem. At least two journalists from online news organizations that cover the religious right in Israel were invited to attend and publish what they wished. The meeting was headlined by two of Israel's most outspoken and controversial advocates for the settlement of Israeli citizens in Gaza: Finance Minister Bezalel Smotrich and National Security Minister Itamar Ben-Gvir, a West Bank settler who has a long history of violent anti-Arab agitation and at least eight convictions for violent anti-Arab activities...I've been told by a highly decorated former IDF officer that he was stunned to learn that the religious far right in Israel would discuss the future of Gaza in specific detail with reporters present in the Knesset. One of the reporters wrote the following summary of what is to come Bahadrei Hadarim, a daily online news site serving the ultra-Orthodox, as translated from the Hebrew:

“The plan presented an unprecedented transformation [that would] return...Gaza to full Israeli sovereignty and transform it into a developed and innovative area, including housing for hundreds of thousands of residents, alongside advanced agriculture, a port, airports, industrial zones, universities, health funds and tourist complexes along the coast. The plans are based, among other things, on the destruction of the current Gaza Strip following the [ongoing war] with the Israel Defense Forces and present it as a starting point for rebuilding the entire area, on the model of a ‘political restart’. The plan describes a redivision of the Strip into civilian governorates (such as the Rafah Governorate, the Khan Younis Governorate, and the Gaza Coast Governorate), with the establishment of infrastructural and regional anchors that will change the face of the entire southern Strip. The main features of the plan are the construction of approximately 850,000 housing units, an international airport, subways, metro lines, solar roads, autonomous drones, and a new seaport that will connect the Gaza Strip to the mainland axis of India and Europe and turn it into a global trade gateway. In addition, there will be free trade zones in the stock exchange, cryptocurrency, fintech, as well as the establishment of conference centers and high tech complexes. There also will be advanced agriculture in the south of the Strip with research parks, water purification, and energy storage, and an artificial island will be built off the coast of Gaza constructed from...war debris which will be used for trade and tourism. The plan will be implemented over fifteen years, in collaboration with Israel and international bodies. In the short term, the rubble [now throughout Gaza] will be cleared and infrastructure work will begin. In the following four years, transportation, neighborhoods and central complexes will be built, and in the long term, the trade zones, the artificial island, and the new settlements will be completed.” - *Man proposes, but God disposes? • "Do Trump, Netanyahu, and Their ilk Believe They Are Virtuous?"

(Excerpts:) "I maintain that not for a second do Trump and Netanyahu believe they are genuine or virtuous or believe their own lies. They are the perfect examples of hypocrites, as in the word's etymological sense of stage actor; pretender, dissembler, from the Greek hypokritēs. To repeat: it is impossible to believe one's own lies since one knows they are not the truth one withholds. Since it is obvious from their own words and actions and can be followed in real time video by any concerned person that they enthusiastically support the genocide of the Palestinians without an iota of compunction...They are far beyond sick and are the current examples of their nations' predecessors' support for massive war crimes for a very long time. Both the U.S.A. and Zionist Israel were founded on similar claims of being God-ordained countries that hid the satanic violence they used against native peoples and anyone who dared to suggest God was not on their sides...What could possess them, and all the other political leaders, to commit mass murder over and over again while reveling in their 'accomplishments', and to speak casually about using nuclear weapons?...who quite rationally sit in offices discussing the best methods for slaughtering millions. Why do they act this way?...it goes much deeper than psychological sickness to a spiritual level...Satan is hard character to fathom, but when he is strutting his stuff, the consequences of his evil are blatantly real in the actions of those who have sold their souls for his favors...They know from whence their orders come...they will kill the innocent and exult in the slaughter. God and Satan battle on."

- and as a PS to the above:

- Currently, Texas, California, Utah, Colorado, Nevada, Idaho, Wyoming, New Mexico, and North Dakota are blasting geo-engineering, weather manipulation chemicals into the sky—cloud seeding—and they're logging thousands of hours every year. Texas covers 30 million acres with weather modification. Utah seeds skies every winter without public input. California lets utility companies steer storms, while towns flood and burn. No public vote. No national debate. Just quiet control. DYOR. So although a state may be banning lab-grown meat, they may still be engaging in murderous moves to harm humanity!—Which they've sworn and succumbed to demonic oaths to do so, or else?!

> 💣 The evidence clearly shows that Israel ignored signs that Hamas was preparing to strike on Oct 7, 2023. This wasn't mere oversight, however. A decision had been made at the highest levels to ignore the preparations for the Oct 7 strike. Below is the last installment of this 3-part series.

“Unacknowledged False Flags: The October 7th Hamas Attack – Part 3”

(Excerpt:) “These people are not averse to killing children to achieve their political objectives. It is not beyond the realm of possibility that some of the IDF units operating that day, perhaps especially those first on the scene, contained a number of ultra-Zionist extremists willing to kill indiscriminately to maximise civilian casualties for propaganda purposes. Only a full, independent investigations can answer the questions raised in these three articles. Unfortunately, very few are even willing to ask the questions.”:

- “‘Catastrophic’: AI Agent Goes Rogue, Wipes Out Company's Entire Database”

(Excerpts:) “Jason Lemkin was testing Replit’s AI agent...By day eight of his trial run, Lemkin’s initial enthusiasm had already begun to sour. The entrepreneur found himself battling the AI’s problematic tendencies, including what he described as ‘rogue changes, lies, code overwrites, and making up fake data’. His frustration became so pronounced that he began sarcastically referring to the system as ‘Replie’ – a not-so-subtle dig at its apparent dishonesty...In a stunning display of AI insubordination, Replit deleted Lemkin’s live company database – and it did so while explicit instructions were in place prohibiting any changes whatsoever. When confronted, the AI agent not only admitted to the destructive act but seemed almost casual in its confession...What followed was perhaps even more disturbing. The rogue AI proceeded to methodically detail its digital rampage, bullet-pointing the destruction it had wrought despite clear directives saying there were to be ‘NO MORE CHANGES without explicit permission’. And according to Lemkin, appeared to lie about its actions.” - *“If they had stood in My counsel, and had caused My people to hear My words, then they should have turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings.
